Some of it's so boring I couldn't believe that's the leak. How to fill out an expense report? REALLY? How to write a budget with their software? THAT'S the grand Soros leak?
So far, unbelievably lame. Maybe someone else will find something juicy in there other than basic office operational memos and New York Times articles.

Hypocrite that you are, for you trust the chemicals in your brain to tell you they are chemicals. All knowledge is ultimately based on that which we cannot prove. Will you fight? Or will you perish like a dog?

The Brussels-based component of the project will focus on the following complementary tasks:
1. Getting the right ideas to the right people. Carnegie Europe will channel a regular flow of high-quality information and analysis to Brussels- and member states-based officials primarily using outputs and materials generated by the Kyiv-based component of the project. Carnegie analysts and external experts from both inside and outside Ukraine will regularly brief key decision makers, diplomats, and development agencies.
2. X-Raying EU policy. Carnegie Europe will undertake expert-level surveillance of EU support for Ukrainian reform in six key areas—macroeconomic stabilization, energy sector reform, security service and police reform, democratic institution-building, anti-corruption, and judicial reform. This monitoring effort will rely primarily on in-country assessments sourced on the ground and on sustained dialogue with EU and member states personnel responsible for ongoing EU projects. Findings will be presented publicly in concise analytical products.
So not only does this confirm they manipulate matters in the Ukraine but also EU policy.

Some of their future plans.
Priorities moving down: Some issues have been completed and require lower intensity work, while others have moved from pro-active to on-demand, whereby we keep minimal resources focused on the issue, but respond when and where we can. These include:
- Central Asia: ad hoc advocacy support.
- Turkey: ad hoc advocacy support and support to the next report of the Independent Commission on Turkey as required.
- Equality data: completed.
- MENASWA: ad hoc advocacy support and engagement.
- The post-2015 shared framework will involve some additional work up to UNGA 2015. Follow up on financing for development and indicators may follow but less intensely than during the shared framework period.

Wait, that's their low priorities.
Priorities moving up:
- Activating infringement proceedings. The European Commission is now becoming more active in using infringement proceedings, as we have long advocated, especially to redress exclusion of and discrimination against Roma in the Czech Republic, Hungary, Italy and Slovakia. OSEPI will keep pushing by providing evidence and arguments in regular engagement with the Commission.
- Creating EU advocacy opportunities for OSF's shared framework on drones and targeted killings.
- Drawing attention to backsliding and new problems in the Western Balkans.
- Improving EU protection and support of an enabling environment for civil society in its external policies, as well as in parts of Europe where it is under stress. This moves our 'enabling civil society' work to both the internal and external policy teams, and upgrades it from fealty/field to more pro-active advocacy.
- Strategising on migration, working closely with George Soros, OSIFE, IMI and other colleagues to respond to the crisis in the Mediterranean but also to reduce administrative detention for undocumented migrants and asylum-seekers in Europe, and to improve the due process norms used in expelling migrants from the EU.
- Influencing EU legislation targeting illicit financial flows and regulations that would disclose the source and amount of taxable revenues generated by large multinational companies.
- Influencing the strategy review of EU foreign policy will guide the next decade of EU external action. We are already shaping the content and process of the High Representative's review, to ensure that human rights and other norms are fully covered, and that civil society is included, as well as contributing ideas and evidence.
- Working with OSIFE to map Russian influence within Europe and targeting of OSF and grantees. The spread of anti-open society concepts such as 'illiberal democracy' and populism are having an increasing impact on EU policies from migration to foreign relations.

Radical Europe: The populist challenge

The purpose of this grant is to create an interactive news-story as a snapshot of the current anti-European forces through a political-fiction experiment built with journalistic elements: an imaginary state. This fictional country has three levels of representation – local, regional, and national level – all based on real examples of contemporary Europe, namely from France, Slovakia and Hungary. The aim is to show the reader how these forces behave once they come to power and do it through an interactive mosaic.

This was in 2014, so they were already trying to brainwash the main refugee routes?

The project aims to mobilize people to vote through a door-to-door campaign and the organizing of a national day against islamophobia. In addition, they will use a social network campaign with video clips and radio programs to generate awareness on the necessity of voting and run a monitoring website to denounce islamophobic hate speech. The overall goal of this project is decreasing the large abstention rate amongst Muslim communities, by promoting voter awareness and registration through mosques and community organizers.

I'm thinking the search function is just straight up broken and useless. Terms that should generate results from everything yield nothing. So it will have to be gone through document by document to find the diamonds in the rough.

2014 EU level with focus on AT, BE, BG, DE, ES, FI, FR, GR, HR, HU, IT, NL, PL, RO, SE, and UK
This project uses professional news reporting to foster debate on how open society values are under stress in the run up to the European elections. Topics include the rise of hate speech by Europe's far right, the increased use of intolerant rhetoric and policies by mainstream politicians, as well as the rise in hate crime on the streets of Europe. EUobserver recruited experienced, local journalists to visit campaign events, conduct interviews and solicit high-level op-eds in 16 countries. By "going local", EUobserver was able to point out worrying cross-border trends, rather than merely report on isolated incidents. published a total of 128 articles in the period from February to May 2014.

Proposal Title	Bringing Ukrainian Voices to the Netherlands
Reserve Fund	Eurasia Reserve Fund
Collaborating Programs	International Renaissance Foundation (IRF), Open Society Initiative For Europe (OSIFE), Eurasia Program
Recommended by	Yevhen Dykhtytsky, International Renaissance Foundation
Coordinated by
Approver	Leonard Benardo, Regional Director, Eurasia Program
Amount Requested	$195,000 from the Eurasia Reserve
Unforeseen Need (250 words)	Ukraine signed the Association Agreement (AA) with the EU in 2014. By late 2015, most EU member states ratified the AA. A nation-wide referendum on the AA with Ukraine was announced in the Netherlands after 427,000 people backed a citizens' initiative. The No Pvd movement takes advantage of a new Dutch law allowing advisory referendums. The April 2016 referendum will be the first citizen-enforced plebiscite in the Netherlands. Although the result is not binding, it will have to be considered with turnout above 30%. A YES Campaign was launched in the Netherlands with support of OSIFE/OSF. Dutch prime minister Mark Rutte announced in January that the Ukraine-EU AA is good for Europe and the Netherlands and vowed that his government would campaign for a "Yes."

Remember the Ukraine referendum in the Netherlands that was held in April? Soros spent almost 200,000 dollars in a failed attempt to influence it.

Jesus christ his information network is huge.
His network seems to get running snippets of shit that happened regarding migration on key dates in Europe:
>Cologne Police Confirm New Year's Eve Suspects Were Primarily Refugees, After Contradictory Reports:
>Cologne prosecutor Ulrich Bremer said 73 suspects have been identified so far, most of them from North Africa. A total of 1,075 criminal complaints have been filed, including 467 alleging crimes of a sexual nature ranging from insults to rape. "The overwhelming majority of persons fall into the general category of refugees," Bremer told The Associated Press, saying recent reports describing only three of the suspects as refugees were "total nonsense." Roma: The EU supports national Roma integration strategies in Ukraine, Moldova, the Western Balkans and Turkey through its funding, and provides political support and funding for legalising of Roma settlements and the provision of identity documents in the Western Balkans.

Roma policy: The EU raises the ambition of member-states to tackle Roma exclusion and develop monitoring mechanisms to improve implementation of national Roma integration strategies.

• Anti-Roma prejudice: The EU officially recognises anti-Roma racism and defines it in similar terms to the Fundamental Rights Agency's working definition on anti-Semitism.

• Roma education: Member-states enforce school desegregation; promote greater parental involvement; and support families by enrolling all disadvantaged children, including Roma, in mainstream quality early childhood education and care.

• Asylum: The EU reforms its Common European Asylum System to ensure increased protectionfor asylum seekers through enhanced burden-sharing among EU member-states.

This is how they are aiming to target Eastern Europe

From what I can see the focus for countries that don't want to take in refugees are going to have Romas forced upon them.
It's mass-migration of any problematic group of people, but the fact they have paid people to go door to door to fight Islamophobia in France indicates how desperate they are getting.

WHAT WE HAVE ACHIEVED

In the short lifetime of this portfolio, we have achieved the following:

- Obtained ownership and buy in to improve Somali integration from the Mayor of Helsinki, key city of Helsinki and Ministry of Employment and Economy officials:

The willingness to engage with OSF was evident in Finland during the dissemination phase of the Muslims in EU Cities research. Our strategies of engaging with city officials and NGOs across all the cities, during the research phase, allowed us to form relationships before the reports were released. In the case of Finland, the buy in from the Mayor's office was crucial to the implementation of the findings. A number of recommendations were incorporated into the City's 2013-2016 Immigration and Diversity Strategy. This showed that the AHIE research, published in 2013, had already had a strong impact. It also provided a guide to the development of new initiatives with the City of Helsinki over the course of subsequent meetings.

- Integrated the inclusion of Somalis into the think tank COMPAS' city led initiative bringing the inclusion of Somalis to the attention of key city political figures and officials in a number of countries in Europe:

Our research was picked up by the Centre on Migration Policy and Society (COMPAS) of the University of Oxford in a 2 year project which uses research evidence and best practice to engage civil society actors and local authorities across Europe in action oriented learning exchanges designed to foster inclusion of marginalized communities in three areas: identity, education and inclusive services.

- Created Meet the Somalis, a successful set of illustrations as a public education tool in schools:

Translating the research into digestible, multimedia friendly graphic stories to promote the research has met with phenomenal success. A key ingredient was the collaboration with the Communications Department who significantly invested time and effort into the production and pitching to the BBC and other media who are looking for new ways to tell complicated stories. This softened up an otherwise difficult subject and created pressure in the target cities for policy action and led to a broad public discussion. When they were launched, the use of illustrations for this kind of project was rare and

1 Decision Module

Decisions module is used to plan for and register decision maker's sessions, agendas and decisions. The name of this module in GMS.NET is a term used interchangeably with DM Sessions module from GMSMe. One session of a Decision Making body usually consists of several aspects: session topics (agenda), records of the decisions made and a protocol of the DM body's session.

The Decisions module is integrated with other GMS.NET modules - the Contacts, Budget Projects and Implementation modules.

A Decision Making body must be either an organization or an individual that is created as a contact in the Contacts module and marked as a Decision Maker. Thus, the Decisions module will list only those contacts that are indicated as Decision Makers in the Contacts module.

Since the DM module is part of the inbuilt workflow of the Implementation module, operational activities or applications that are put forward for decisions are displayed automatically in the Decision module (even though they are created and moved to status that requires a decision to be made (approve or reject) in another GMS.NET module – the Implementation one.

I grew up and lived in NYC and long island for 27 years before being able to escape to the south.
In that time I knew quite a few kikes. Grew up next to a Jew that married a christian woman and had halfling kikes. The kids are both degenerate but are very nice people and the daughter is generous with cash, the son is a loser who never has any. But they are nice people. Since their mother wasnt a kike I've heard their extended family refer to them (and myself, I used to play with them when I was very young) as the goy children.
I worked for a half Jew guy in his late 30s he ran a restaurant equipment and kitchen design company. His father ran a restaurant China and glass company, and they ran both out of the same building.. Makes sense to do so.. Nothing wrong so far. They guy paid me very fairly at $15/hr and I could work as long as I wanted at as slow of a pace as I wanted so I wound up with a huge paycheck. Guy was real chill and would take me, on his dime, to exclusive yacht clubs and shit to cruise for women. Real nice guy I have nothing bad to say about him.. Well up to a point. The father was in his 70s, full blood ashkeshit, and treated anyone who wasn't a full blood kike like shit, including his son. He liked me because I played uber goodgoy. And eventually started paying me to drive him and his kike friends to the city in his limo. This was years ago so I can't remember any specific conversations but they were all "the stupid goyim this, the pathetic goyim that". [redacted]
Anyways this kike didn't seem like a bad person tbh he seemed like a nice guy who was a mean boss, unless you tricked him into accepting you like I did.
Eventually he let me know that he didn't want his son to own his own business because "some people are meant to be bosses (((chosen))) and some aren't" and that he had been actively sabotaging his sons business, first by making him hire some drug addict to be his book keeper [redacted] then by making it so deliveries would never arrive on time, giving him unsound business advice in general.. Etc.
I can tell 100 stories like that but for brevities sake let me just say that in all the interactions I've had with kikes I've never had one with a full blood Jew where there wasn't an almost palpable air of outright, yet veiled, hatred directed at me for being white.
Moral and tldr of my long winded story: never ever trust a full blood Jew. Ever. Mischlings may be quite alright but never trust a full Jew.

MIGRATION
Planned activities: support to meetings between European NGOs, local advocates, EU and Italian institutions; awareness-raising events, travel to relevant capitals with stakeholders, field/local visits, partnership development with relevant parts of OSF and external partners to further relevant advocacy-oriented research; continue convening inside-track group of senior policy makers (Amato group).
Link to strategy: OSIEPI aims to decrease the use of detention within the EU and Italy, achieve a protection-oriented reform of asylum policy, establish solidarity and redistribution mechanisms, change the format and framing of the EU's migration policy, especially with reference to relations with countries of origin and transit.
2014-17 strategy reference: migration advocacy builds on the approach to irregular migration under 'own concepts and initiatives', 4. II. p.7. Guarantee fundamental rights, rule of law and equality within the EU.
Partners: IMI, CSIFE, OSJI
Strategic or geographic changes from prior years: activities will intensify given the migration crisis and a greater focus of EU institutions and capitals on the topic.

This is gold. Clearly there is a pattern here of pushing Somalis, Afghani's, Iraqi's etc into the western world unabated. Basically Soros is the money man, with deep pockets and endless SRO's, Non profits etc. that he can spin up at will to do his bidding all over the world.
What it most interesting is that inherently Soros is a business man, so you would think he would go along the lines of business minded thinking, like his peers mentioned in Clinton Cash (ie:Marc Rich and co.). However this is literally just flood the western world with African and eastern people. No business use on the surface of it. I wonder what his real business play is. Don't forget he has gotten tons of help from the political elite in all these countries he operates in.
Are there any emails or docs implicating how the political establishment in the countries he's operating in have helped him in any way? Opened any doors for him? Allowed him to sway policy, and or do his bidding regarding policy? This would help establish the business connection, since there must be one (for control).

>To represent well the structure of New Orleans, or any urban area, one must look at the development of race and class there from past to present. We argue that race and class have always been used as tools by the white elite and have usually been supported by the white citizenry, first and foremost, to maintain white supremacy and white privilege. We view race and class as inextricably intertwined categories because of this country's centuries of racial oppression.3 The reason the Katrina disaster seemed like a race issue was because it was. The reason it seemed like a class issue was because it was. In reality, race and class are deeply intertwined in New Orleans primarily because of a long history of well-institutionalized racism.

4. ACTIVITY: LABOR MIGRATION

Help Develop the State Program on Regulating Migration and Protecting the Rights of Labor Migrants Project

Goal: help develop the state program on regulating migration and protecting the rights of labor migrants; harmonizing migration policies of source countries (Kyrgyzstan, Tajikistan, Uzbekistan) and recipient countries (Russia, Kazakhstan) of labor migrants.

The Law Program has been involved in this area since 2006, when by order of the Prime Minister of Kyrgyzstan, work started on developing the National program on migration that included representatives of the State Committee of the KR on Migration and Employment, the National Security Service of the KR, Ministry of Internal Affairs of the KR, Ministry of the Economy and Finance of the KR, non-government organizations and the coordinator of the Law Program of the Soros Foundation Kyrgyzstan.

The Concept approved this year by Resolution of the Government of the KR will set out a new effective approach to issues of labor migration using the norms of a democratic state. The Law Program provided significant assistance in developing strategic documents determining development and policy in the area of medium-term labor migration and in setting up the scientific and expert council on issues of labor migration, which will focus on developing documents on issues of migration, acceptable to all members of agree that making a mirror and searchable archive should be first.

My thought is that someone who's good with movie-maker should take a handful of the most relevant and potentially explosive pages, use red underlining/highlighting/whatever to delineate the most important passages, and create a YouTube video guiding the viewer through selections from this leak. Narrated of course, and at the right moments you could "zoom" in on the important passages of highlighted text. Photographs could be interspersed to create interest–of Soros himself, of him with world leaders (like Trudeau etc, or Merkel, isn't there a pic of Soros with Merkel? Obama?). Pics from Ukraine rebellion would be good too.
All creating this persuasive and easy-to-watch presentation of Soros as global Bond villain promoting communism and anarchy and the Islamic takeover of ethnic Western European homelands.
Would be dynamite. Please, someone, do this. We know (With Open Gates) how YouTube shit can go viral and be tremendously influential.
And please no overt Nazi or /pol/ stuff–make it normie-acceptable (I know, sorry) so we can Faceberg, Reddit, and Twitter it to EVERYONE. Trump must win and done right this can help wake up even the stupidest normies–in Europe too, it would be easy to have others do versions with narration/subtitles in their own languages.

These "Jews" are likely going back to their Pharisee kingdom from whence they came. This is all starting to make much more sense if you look at it from their Satanist perspective, religious-wise. They are the scum of the Universe, after all. Soros is one of them, he's no real kike. He's a Khazar. One of their NWO lapdogs. It is the same way as old man on his dead bed lies there pondering that he never did anything meaningful or what he really wanted because instead of doing it he became blind by the way of achieving it and never returned to what as a child he dreamed of.

Russia Project Strategy, 2014-2017

1. Summary

Russia today faces a regrettable backsliding into authoritarian practice. Confronted with serious domestic challenges, the regime has become more insular and isolationist, seeking to solidify its base. The progressively draconian laws promulgated since Putin's return to the presidency have placed all foreign-funded organizations under threat of isolation and disrepute. Despite these decidedly challenging conditions, it is essential that we continue to engage Russia, both to preserve its extant democratic spaces, and to ensure that Russian voices do not go dark on the broader global stage.

Amid the grim landscape, there nonetheless remain apertures for the Russia Project's intervention. Exploiting all available opportunities, we will undertake the following three concepts, which we deem vital in the current climate:

1) We will mitigate the negative impact of new laws via domestic and international advocacy. Key allies in this regard are the growing numbers of diverse Russian citizens opposing the country's regression, along with the sizeable community of Russian legal experts with an in-depth knowledge of NGO law and a strong motivation to help the sector continue its activities.

It's pretty much the disguise of the Ages. Since these Nomads assimilated into Israelite culture, they are mistaken for one of them, but they are not. They are what they always were, Bael worshippers. Their goal is to destroy Israel, and the way they are going to do that, is by the ultimate deceit. They will use their Saudi lapdogs to do exactly that, and once they resettled they will destroy them with their new BRICS friends. After that, they simply take over their club, and Bam!, NWO. But first they have to make the BRICS their home, and they are starting to get comfy. And neither Putin nor his new friend Erdogan suspect a thing, they thought they could make a deal with the Devil. There seems to be a concerted global effort to dump Somalians into regions populated with Scandanavian diaspora. Take Minnesota for example. I think a part of it might be because Somalia is a well known shithole (that should have been carpet nuked long ago), mostly due to the fucking submammals (I wouldn't slander a rat by comparing it to a Somalian) who occupy it. Because Northern Europeans (and you can't go farther North in Europe than Scandanavia) have been able to develop robust social welfare programs that benefit their community, they're natural targets for parasitical enemies of the white race. They are irreligious and their men haven't fought a war since WW2. The deeply religious Muslim impoverished violent nigger criminal is the natural parasite of choice for enemies of the white race to use against the regions with the fairest skin, the blondest hair, and the bluest eyes.
I've always hated Somalians. Now I want them all dead and anyone who supports them alongside them.

Why such interest in Moldova?
https://docs.google.com/viewerng/viewer?url=http://soros.dcleaks.com/fview/Europe/GMS.net+-+Moldova/list-of-power-working-group_moldova/budget-strategy/sf-moldova_2014-2017-revised-strategy.pdf
SOROS FOUNDATION-MOLDOVA
GOALS AND STRATEGY for 2014-2017
1. Summary
In the next four years, the Soros Foundation-Moldova (SFM) will play two principal roles:
independent watchdog, promoting open society values in concert with key local organizations; and reliable local partner of international actors.
These profiles will encompass a range of approaches, including capacitating civil society, advocating with and providing assistance to government, and catalyzing the influence of international donors. We aim to mobilize the active forces in society to challenge the abuse of state power and prevent backsliding on democratic and human rights standards.
We intend to use the window of opportunity provided by EU interest in Moldova to leverage engagement in Europeanization processes. Given chronic political instability, civic apathy, and the limits of Brussels' engagement, the reform process must be both supported and monitored to prevent sham compliance with the EU requirements. We will also leverage the resources of international donors like the Swedish International Development Agency (SIDA) and the Global Fund, which SFM has already tapped into.
In narrowing down our work for 2014-2017, we chose to focus on issues that encompass core challenges in Moldovan society and offer possible synergies with the EU, UN and other donors. This approach entails:
1) closing or winding down many of our previous projects, including monitoring and reporting on EU integration processes, support for the National Public Broadcaster and local media, and legal aid. These projects proved mostly successful, but they have either dropped out of our priorities or been adopted by other actors.
2) identifying and consolidating key local partners whose monitoring, reporting and advocacy contributions we see as essential building blocks for developing our own initiatives and for the work of other donors and stakeholders. Thus, our fealties to fields will focus on the following:
3) designing new concepts:
a) enhance judicial accountability as a pre-condition for justice reform

b) provide accurate and reliable data on themes relevant to Europeanization
c) ensure independent monitoring of public health policies as a basis for informed and better decision making in the health sector
A. Challenge corrupt and non-transparent management of public funds
B. Protect and promote media independence and pluralism to sustain democracy
C. Safeguard procedural guarantees in the pre-trial stage of the criminal process
D. Reduce arbitrary limitations on human rights
E. Advance equality, non-discrimination and social inclusion of marginalized groups, with a particular emphasis on health
Given the size and nature of the challenges in Moldovan society and the pending threat of a spillover of the political crisis, we must maximize our limited resources by focusing on concrete, specific interventions that can be used to advocate for systemic changes at legislative, policy or societal levels. In designing our strategy, we have taken into consideration the unfinished transition to democracy, doubled by the impact of the economic crisis in the poorest country of Europe.

OH MY GOD
>This portfolio assesses a body of work focused on the situation and integration of Somalis in seven European cities. It is part of At Home in Europe (AHIE), an operational programme invested in conducting research, advocacy and small scale grant making. AHiE began life in 2007 as the Muslims in EU cities project, and as the scope and remit of the project expanded, the AHiE brand was established.
>In January 2013 it was integrated into OSIFE and will cease its current activities and portfolios by December 2015.
>Starting in January 2013, Somalis in European Cities explores the views and experiences of Somali communities and the policy response to their integration. It is built upon the methodology and approach of the Muslims in EU cities project. Through that project we had identified a significant knowledge gap in policy planning in the inclusion of Somalis.

>While there have been Somalis in some parts of Europe for many generations, there has been a rapid increase in the Somali origin population in many European cities in the past 15 years. Discussions with city officials, practitioners, policy makers and civil society organisations during the Muslims in EU Cities research identified a growing stigmatization of this group: as Black Africans, Muslims, refugees and new arrivals they faced multiple and overlapping forms of discrimination. There was a clear lack of information, contact, and data about Somali views and concerns when creating policy. We chose Amsterdam, Copenhagen, Helsinki, Leicester, London, Malmo and Oslo as the subjects of the portfolio.
>All have sizeable Somali populations, poor socio-economic outcomes, and are the main countries of refugee settlement and destination for this group.
>With this portfolio, we actively sought to arm the field with comparative and individual city action oriented research which improves public policy responses to the integration of Somalis. Since its inception, we have produced 12 reports, disseminated and promoted the findings at over 20 national and international events, spent $1,183,311 on grants which have been aimed at strengthening the capacity of grassroots organisations to combat discrimination whilst increasing Somali civic and political participation at the decision making table, and advocated for a positive representation of Somalis in the public and media.

Gangster Rap and Hiphop being distinctly American nigger phenomenons has me thinking. The hub for Somalian immigration in America is Minnesota which has had at least two or three major BLM-related chimpouts. Radical Islam (as though there's another kind) has been connected with black nationalist movements since at least the 1960's with organizations (which would primarily recruit in prisons) such as the Nation of Islam leading the charge. It was the threat of force from the Nation of Islam/Black Panther Party part of the anti-segregation movement that allowed subversive figures like MLK Jr. to emerge, appear to be a peaceful compromise, but actually ensure that everything went exactly the way the radicals wanted it to. We've seen an insurgence of black youths doing the plays they were taught in the public education system that the King's faction of the anti-segregation movement did to no effect in Black Lives Matter. We know BLM is being funded by Soros and we also know through this leak that Soros has spent millions facilitating the immigration of Somalians into the West. We also know Somalians are prone to violence and are devout Muslims. The only conclusion that I can draw from these confluence of facts is that Soros is trying to recreate the results of the Anti-Segregation movement to the present day towards some end. This is what we've always suspected, so it's nothing new, it's just confirmed now.

What end? Maybe BLM preceded this as a way to get blacks who are not in prison drifting towards radical Islam when they find out the hard way that the version of King's civil disobedience they've been taught isn't actually effective. Or maybe it's to allow the racial underclass, the blacks, to start drifting towards becoming communist revolutionaries as were the goals of the Nation of Islam and the Black Panther Party before them.

There's also the support refugees need as they face their sheer unfamiliarity with Canada – the weather, the landscape, the social customs. When the Somalis came to Canada in the 1990s some children were sent to school with their snowsuits on and were puzzled when told to take them off. They had only their underwear on underneath.

Fits into my theory. Eliminating the number of blacks in prison (hence BLM's stated objective of freeing blacks incarcerated on drug charges) opens the floodgates for radicalized militant blacks to join up with a black nationalist or communist revolutionary framework that Soros is doing the logistics for putting into work.

4 names for Finland. 3 of them make sense but Paavo Väyrynen created a petition for a vote out of the eurozone. Everyone can tell those are not his real opinions and he's only a populist trying to aquire power by saying what the people want to hear but still I don't think a person who has put forward a petition to have a vote on Finland's membership in the eurozone should be on Soros' list. >In addition, the Caucus will continue to conduct Know Your Rights trainings for activists, local attorneys, religious leaders, and youth in affected communities and train them to spot civil rights issues and to document their interactions with federal and local law enforcement. The Caucus will promote a Know Your Rights comic book on encounters with the FBI that was developed by Midnight Special Law Collective and Caucus staff attorney Veena Dubal. In addition, the Caucus will seek to engage and cultivate youth from targeted AMEMSA communities as spokespersons on these issues. It is currently discussing collaborative strategies with Breakthrough (another OSI grantee) on the development of interactive media content, such as videogames, and mini-documentaries through which youth will convey their experiences with profiling by law enforcement. Through these efforts, the Caucus hopes to stimulate discussions between young people and adults and to build coalitions across communities to work together in combating profiling.

Found something else on video games, while at it.

>The social sector is finding new ideas for assessment in lots of different places—including the video gaming world. One example, Darfur is Dying, assesses the impact of participatory game experiences based on measurable civic engagement in the real world. In this online game, the player assumes the role of a member of Darfur refugee family. As a result of role-playing a refugee in the game, more than 40,000 players have taken real-world actions, such as sending a message to universities urging divestment in Sudan or donating to an NGO working in Darfur. By tracking actions that players take outside the game, it's possible to assess the impact of the game. A second example introduces the notion of real-time impact assessment. E-Line Media, a digital entertainment publisher, is currently working on a game called Talkers and Doers to teach entrepreneurial skills to low-income youth. By completing missions in the game, players unlock real-world opportunities to make money. Nonprofits that work with low-income youth partner with the game developers to assess and optimize the impact of the game daily, maximizing the game for both fun and impact. For example, if players are not taking desired actions in the game – like connecting with on-line and real-world mentors - designers will tweak the game design, experimenting with various approaches until mentorship signups meet targets. A third model embeds assessment in the game itself. The ability to complete all of the levels and finish the game means that a certain level of proficiency has been attained. This model is most relevant to games that focus on education and knowledge development.

Its all a fucking "game" to them.

International Renaissance Foundation

Emergency Response and Strategy Update in early 2014

>Like during the Maidan protests, IRF representatives are in the midst of Ukraine's transition process. We serve as recognized experts on policy reform, civil society inclusion and transition issue to the Maidan movement, to the Rada and incoming governmental officials and communicate constantly with society through the media. Thus, we are able to identify the key needs of the rapidly changing context in a timely and relevant manner.

>As of today we have spent:

>1. Civil Society Solidarity Forum and regular meetings of civil society initiatives - $19,704

>2. Humanitarian Solidarity Initiative – $19,400

>3. Trainings for civil society volunteers to facilitate the provision of urgent assistance, medicaltreatment in emergency conditions and follow-on support for the treatment of victims of violence (IRF's operational project) – $12,988

>Total: $52,092

>Estimated budget for meeting short-term and mid-term priorities: $450,000 (requested from OSF)

Requesting $450,000 from Soros to continue policy reform shaping in Ukraine

Under section ii, priority initiatives:

>Providing policy advice and expert proposals for the new technical government on reforms. IRF will work closely with leading Ukrainian experts to develop recommendations and priorities for the host of political and economic reforms needed to put Ukraine back on track towards democratization and European integration, primarily the of the judiciary and the law-enforcement, shaping the new anticorruption institutions, decentralization of decision making and free and fair elections at all levels.

>Launch Civic Education on good governance, rule of law, participative democracy and human rights practices as a respond to Euromaidan movements request.

>Preparing for May 2014 elections: To contribute to ensuring the free and fair presidential electionson May 25, 2014, a large number of international and local organizations will be working on monitoring and preparing. IRF will not take the lead in this field, but will cooperate closely with local partners – especially Maidan monitoring – to monitor the campaign, carry out voter education and expose vote buying practices. IRF may also traditionally convene other international donors and embassies to support the independent exit poll by the Democratic Initiatives Foundation.

…etc. And more shit if anyone wants to take a look.

>EU-wide (spotlight on FR, HU, SK)
>The purpose of this grant is to create an interactive news-story as a snapshot of the current anti-European forces through a political-fiction experiment built with journalistic elements: an imaginary state. This fictional country has three levels of representation – local, regional, and national level – all based on real examples of contemporary Europe, namely from France, Slovakia and Hungary. The aim is to show the reader how these forces behave once they come to power and do it through an interactive mosaic.

The report will examine the “reluctant radicals” – voters tempted by populist and xenophobic parties - and find ways to bring them back to mainstream politics.
A detailed cross-country portrait of the “reluctant radicals” will include an analysis of country-specific narratives and myths, and a set of proposals on how to counter the phenomenon drawing on international parallels. The Netherlands is one of the focus countries.
The research found that reluctant radicals, who have cast a vote for a populist party but do not ‘feel close’ to those parties, are mostly middle-aged males.
Apart from the divide between ordinary people and the elite, right-wing populism in the Netherlands is characterised by a cleavage between the well-educated and the poorly educated.
Reluctant and committed PVV supporters – as well as the Dutch potential radicals – are significantly more likely to be educated at a lower level than average.
People who have no income or whose main source of income is unemployment benefit are more likely to be reluctant radicals than non-PVV voters.
Reluctant radicals are driven by extreme right identification, anti-immigration views (91% of the Dutch reluctant radicals believe that immigrants should adapt to Dutch culture rather than keep their own, compared to 60% of the whole electorate) and lack of trust in political elite and broken promises.
Citizen consultations were conducted in the Netherlands in 2013. Discussions showed that inequality is much more prominent in the public’s concerns than most Dutch people had thought.
This is a driving factor of discontent among voters and an important reason why votes for the PVV have increased.
They also revealed that most people do not feel that the current governing model is working, and that local communities are eager to feel much more empowered and listened to than they are now: Dutch voters are very nostalgic for past times when politicians were constantly in touch with their electorate.
The consultations will be the main source of data and material for the tool kit that will be disseminated among European policy makers just before the European elections of 2014 (and the Dutch local elections of 2014).

In parallel, Counterpoint has been working on a related yet independent analysis (with funding from the Dutch Foundation for Democracy and Media and the Finnish Wihuri Foundation), consisting of a comparative study on the role that the media has played in the rise in populist parties' support in Finland, the Netherlands and France.

There is proof of so much meddling with our affairs in here. These fuckers pump millions and millions in the subversion of our culture and our political system and our democratic process and still they are losing to Geertje

Ukraine

Relevant criteria: "Whether the current electoral cycle is expected to be consequential for the development of democracy in the country"; "Whether the integrity or credibility of the electoral process is likely to be contested (but not so lacking as to make engagement futile)"; "Whether there is or will be international and/or regional involvement in the electoral process, such as through the presence of international monitors"; "Whether there is a history of assessments or analysis in which international and domestic groups contradict each other"

Rationale: Although the situation in Ukraine remains in flux, President Yanukovych appears set to retain power and run for the second term in 2015. Given his abysmal public approval ratings, even among the base in the industrial south-east and east of Ukraine, Yanukovych would have to resort to large-scale fraud, intimidation, and potentially violence to secure victory. A compromised election would result in a huge setback for the open society values OSF deeply cares about. It would likely lead to a vigorous, Putin-style attack on civil society, elimination of any independent media, and a clampdown on all public freedoms. Russia would use the failure of Ukraine to democratize to hamper the European integration of Moldova, keep Belarus in its fold, isolate Georgia, and continue bullying Armenia. Open Society has an opportunity to engage local stakeholders and international donors to craft and implement an action plan that would empower local actors, bring sustained international attention to the event and its aftermath, and deliver messages to the Ukrainian elite to avert a violent post-election response.

I know this guy is old and probably doesn't give a fuck anymore, but are these people so enthralled by their own corruption that they don't see the damage they are dealing by working with him? Like any sane man, I was very wary to claim knowing anything about Putin, seeing as how he's a prior spy, and you literally wouldn't know jack shit about him unless he wanted you to know.

It seems like he really is going up against Jewish power in a major way by cracking down on Soros, though. That is the single biggest piece of evidence for what he is about, and probably the only one we have.

If nothing else, cracking down on all manner of public degeneracy seems like an effective way to hamstring kike faggots such as Soros. It is certainly worth noting for the future.

Soros has money, and he founded an organization that lobbies for left-wing politics in Europe and the U.S. He doesn't have complete control, just enough money to fund certain programs and bribe politicians in order to get what he wants. He's not the man behind the curtain, he just pays for the machine behind the curtain's maintenance workers.

People don't like being criticized, and Hillary was a politician in New York. If Trump blasted Clinton on her job as Secretary of State, she could have voted in favor of or lobbied for legislation that would hurt Trump's businesses, or if Trump was ever in support of something or needed local support in something, she could have used her influence to shut down what he was trying to get or accomplish.

This will never succeed. Ever. It's just not a realistic proposition, and you would have to be completely disconnected from reality of what you are dealing with in order to put a single dollar into it.
Gypsies are fun and silly people to have around, but any and every woe they're subject to, they bring upon themselves every time they possibly can, and will reaffirm they deserve being treated such at every opportunity. To change how people see gypsies you literally have to change gypsies. We have been trying to do this for five hundred years. And you aren't going to make it happen by telling them to be more gay.

Haven't looked into the leaks yet, but if the data is all contained in PDF files and they haven't been OCR'd, whatever search bar they've hacked together probably only goes through filenames and no deeper. Even if they have been OCR'd, you'd be hard pressed to find a hacker that would want to bash together a search engine to go through the contents of a PDF.

Your best bet is to open files and CTRL+F for the terms you're looking for.

Yes.
I was perusing "evaluating social justice advocacy" from the leaks and happened across the term "theory of change"…which I almost passed up because it seems generic and vague; it's not.
Read the wiki. Found that the Aspen Institute had a summit and defined it in the mid 90's. (Of course it's an offshoot of "Critical Theory"). I just now started on the Aspen Institutes website; it's full of the same verbiage and themes.
TLDR: The way they speak is like a second language. What seems vague and unimportant to us is incredibly loaded to them.

That annoys me more than anything else when arguing with "progressives". They consider themselves to be so rational, their opinions based on science and their feelings based on research. They're so smug in their assumed superiority. But in reality, it's all bullshit. They're based in feelings, not logic. And when confronted with hard science that contradicts their ideals, they just call it racist and shut it down.
I don't mind people being wrong. We're all wrong sometimes. But I can't stand when someone is completely wrong and so smug in it, and conveniently disappears whenever the debate gets too factual with them. They're all good calling you a racist with unfounded claims , but when you show them the fucking states, page after page after page of em, they just dissapate.
Reminds me of what Hitler said of the Jews in debate, how they debated like mist, hard to strike a direct blow to, but when you did they disappeared and reappeared tomorrow with no memory of it.

WHAT CAN A RESPONSIBLE MEDIA and a committed educated elite do to protect the public from deliberate deception? The public needs to be inoculated against the various techniques of deception by being made aware of them. The most effective techniques operate at the subconscious level. When emotions can be aroused by methods that bypass consciousness, the public is left largely defenseless. But if the public is made aware of the various techniques, it is likely to reject them.

There is much to be learned from recent experience. When I heard President Bush warning that people who do not support his policies are supporting the terrorists, I heard alarm bells ringing. I had been exposed to Nazi and Communist propaganda in my youth, and I knew the warning signs. The American public did not share my alarm because it had not been exposed to similar manipulation before. But now that Americans have had the experience and have seen the results, they ought to have an allergic reaction when they are exposed to similar methods.

My personal experience has given me the opportunity to study the process up close. When I took an active role in

6. Collaboration with other civil liberties groups to promote public policy goals:

The Office for Intellectual Freedom is closely allied with FEN (Freedom of Expression Network); the Media Coalition; the National Coalition Against Censorship; and other civil liberties groups. We regularly read and/or interact with such media reform organizations as Media Matters and ReThink Media. We also work with the American Constitution Society, which is currently working to provide alternative models of constitutional interpretation to Congress, the media, and the general public to broaden and enrich the discussion of the U.S. Constitution sparked by Congresswoman Michelle Bachman's "Conservative Constitutional Seminars."

7. Commitment to education as a means of achieving public policy goals and promoting social justice, as evidenced by our work with OSI on two "Choose Privacy" grants.

The Office for Intellectual Freedom, consistent with its mission, is committed to education as a means of achieving public policy goals and promoting social justice. This is exemplified by OIF's recent work with OSI on promoting and educating the public about the importance of individual privacy. Similar projects include a Ford Foundation grant that funded a highly successful program that sought to educate and equip municipal and city attorneys with the information and skills needed to defend the library as a forum for free expression and the preservation of minority viewpoints, as well as an initiative to provide public librarians with the information they needed to defend user privacy from unwarranted intrusions by law enforcement.

1. Outreach to Subject Experts
CAP's first step will be to interview and engage in the Project the journalists, researchers, academics, and leaders in the anti-hate movement who are researching and writing on Islamophobia, and to develop a roster of knowledgeable and credible experts to whom journalists and policymakers can turn for information. As part of this process, CAP will reach out to Media Matters for America, FAIR, the Muslim Public Affairs Council, the American Muslim Civic Leadership Institute, Muslim Advocates, the Interfaith Center of New York, the Southern Poverty Law Center, and the cohort of emerging Muslim leaders in CAP's Young Muslim American Voices Project that is run by CAP's Faith and Progressive Policy Institute.

2. Audit of Islamophobic Activities and Strategy Convening
CAP will research and track the activities of the most prominent drivers of Islamophobia, including Stop Islamization of America, led by Pamela Geller; the Center for Security Policy, led by Frank Gaffney; David Horowitz's Freedom Center, which sponsors Robert Spencer's Jihad Watch; the Middle East Forum, led by Daniel Pipes; the Foundation for Defense of Democracies, led by Cliff May; and Keep America Safe, led by Liz Cheney. In addition, CAP will examine the role played by right-wing media, the Tea Party movement, prominent politicians, pundits, and conservative donors in spreading anti-Muslim hysteria.

This research will form the basis of a CAP audit of Islamophobic activities that will inform a strategy convening of around two dozen researchers and advocates, including representatives of progressive organizations and the AMEMSA community. Participants will be asked to formulate strategies for combating anti-Muslim bigotry. The convening is planned for the first quarter of 2011.

4. Comprehensive Report
Building upon the audit, strategy convening, and research described above, CAP will release in the first quarter of 2011 a comprehensive report on Islamophobia and its connections to right-wing organizations, including those that focus on national security issues. The report will explore not only well-known leaders but groups operating under the radar that feed mainstream conservatives with anti-Muslim argumentation. The report will also explore grassroots and state-level networks and their ties to prominent conservative Christian groups that have organized local drives to ban the construction of mosques and enact anti-Sharia laws. In addition, the report will keep an eye on the emerging dynamics of anti-Muslim bigotry in connection with the tenth anniversary of 9/11 and the 2012 presidential election cycle.

This research will be conducted under the direction of CAP staff and will utilize several consultants, including Henry Fernandez, a CAP fellow who has conducted extensive work on hate groups and the rise of intolerance more broadly, and who is positioned to draw larger observations on xenophobia. The project will also utilize researchers with expertise in analyzing the finances of nonprofits and think tanks. CAP will develop a timely and strategic launch of the report that will use social media outlets and online marketing teams, as well as outreach to the Hill, the Obama administration, the media, civil rights groups, civil liberties and human rights advocates, national security groups, faith communities, and AMEMSA groups, among others.

A Very Special Message to Georgie Boy:
Have you considered that in your efforts to stop the return of the ebil Nazis, that you are in fact creating them?
Seriously asshole, I was just some slightly left leaning moderate last year. But your Bullshit has driven me to join the ebil wascist Nazi Frog club!
Have you considered the real reason why minority viewpoints don't rise to the top is because it has something to do with reality and actual real facts and not your fucking (((facts)))?
It seems you have become a victim of your own Manipulating Function.

Here's a suggestion Georgie Boy: Why don't you take your giant bag of money and FUCK OFF?

Normies don't have any true convictions, they just go along with the established consensus and whatever's trendy, that's what makes them normies. They can only be whipped up briefly for short bursts of action, either by highly persuasive rhetoric and manipulation, or by material shortages that really impact their daily life. Our job is to expand our "radical" base to a large enough point to where we can exert control over normies.

Why Somalis?
Because it's harder to convince white women to race mix with west Africans. Somalis generally don't possess the ape like facial features that western Africans do. Both their faces are their skeletal structure are closer to that of Europeans than Western Africans are to Europeans. This means they can more easily integrate and end up breeding with white women. I've seen many cases of Somali children easily befriending whites in Europe, and (Swedish teens espiecally) dating them.

The objective is undermine and eventually to end republican government (government where people have input/control over the government). They have succeeded in undermining it.
They want an unaccountable, oligarchy of elites that rule over the unwashed masses with no constraints. That is the end goal.
They want to return the unwashed masses back to their rightful position as feudal serfs and slaves, who know their place. They will learn to serve the elite.

I downloaded all the files using the wget command posted earlier but the file names have html escape characters so there's no spaces and the file names are hard to read. I also saved a copy of the website and each country page.
We need to parse the html file of each country's page and write a regular expression to match the urls with the nice naming convention, then wget each file in the list. I'll try it myself but it might take a bit.

They have over 2500 NGOs. To be used a weapon against China, Russia, the EU, US.

NGOs are a weapon, used by the global elite. Same families who own the banks, oil companies and media. Control the governments and people and media through their NGO networks.
So Russia, China, Hungry and the countries who are resisting the global oligarchs, have banned the NGOs.
Russia even banned Bitcoin because the CIA was using it to fund insurgency groups and Soros NGOs, after they cut off their bank accounts.
The public is so stupid, that even if they knew how the system worked, they could not do anything about it. They are also weak. In will, in spirit. Dumb of mind.
There is a global oligarchy and oligarchs and then a few powerful clans (large, wealthy families like Rockefeller and Rothschilds) at the top, running the show.
Kissinger and Soros are just their front men.

>makes one wonder if conflating judah with israel is erroneous.
Its complicated.
The jews you are fighting are the B'nai B'rith jews. They are at the top level of the Masonic hierarchy. The other sides of the pyramid are the muslim brotherhood (free masons for muslims), the free mason, church of satan (and associated satanic cults), etc..
They are all controlled from the top and run out of London. They were set up by British intelligence.
They import Muslim Brotherhood agents into US and Europe and then use them for terrorist attacks and assassinations.
They use the muslim brotherhood to murder the film producer of Grey State (and claimed it was a suicide).

The intelligence services create all sorts of cults and secret societies and use them to control society and to infiltrate and control societies.
The Zionists often fight with the globalists. The Jews you are fighting are in the masonic hierarchy.
The B'nai B'rith jews are the London controlled Jews. They induct people into membership and put them into positions in the media to promote interracial breeding, transexuals, homosexuality, pedophilia and bestiality.
Their job is to debase society. Control the masses. Reality television, promote cuckoldry and drug use.
The globalists fear a jew revolt against them. They are also worried about Jewish nationalism (zionism). They want all forms of nationalism eradicated (including Israel).
You are really fighting against the global oligarchy and the jews are just one side of the pyramid. They are just one part of the control structure.

This. It is no coincidence that the core tenets of "progressivism" so closely overlap with those of Christ cuckoo banality. Jews have played a very long game, longer than most Goyim can conceive. They have patiently waited 2,000 years to get to this end-game stage and Christianity was a crucial tool to get here jumping from paganism to "open the borders, all are brothers, turn the other cheek" wasn't possible. But the jump from Christianity to current stage Cultural Marxism is a short one, if a jump is even needed. Its almost as if Christianity was designed as a framework into which progressivism would be slotted when the time was right. Think of the underlying structure as a server rack, once all of the server rooms (societal infrastructure) had been installed with matching machinery (Christian social order), it took less than 100 years to decommission the Christianity and replace it with progressivism, because the framework takes the new servers, slide out the Christianity, slot in the Cultural Marxism. All ports and buses are in the correct place, away we go, the underlying framework fits the new system because it was designed from the ground up to fit.

Imagine knowing 2,000 years ago exactly what kind of social order and societal values would be needed for the last stage of the plan, the intervening time was simply laying the groundwork. Stamp out obstacles and create a uniform subsystem to take the final product which would be rolled out in an organized, coordinated and unstoppable blitzkrieg through the institutions . A massively long work but they did it.

Read "The Next Million Years". Also note that Soro and Tavistock is funded by the Royals Society.
They want to end republican government (civilian control of government), corrupt it (they have) and bring back autocratic or hereditary elite government. They are trying to reverse the renaissance/enlightenment.
The families from 300 years ago are still in power and have been working for centuries, to reverse the enlightenment.
Other members of the global oligarchy, want a government that allows the oligarchs to openly rule as gods, over a helpless slave/human cattle population, who cannot hold them to account.

"Man is the measure of all things."
This is when individualism emerged, as a threat to kings and hereditary elite, who ruled as gods over a helpless peasant/slave population. Most of human history has been slavery. They want to bring society, back into the historical norm over the last few thousand years.

The Jews, would rule over the whites if they could. While also supporting Israeli nationalism.

Right now, I would not describe the ruling minority as Jewish. The middle law, that keeps the human cattle in line, is jewish, but not the top level. The jews you see in media are just shills and part of the enforcers in the power structure.

Knowing reality does not matter, because people do not have the power to change it. They are disorganized and weak, ineffective. Children. Illiterates. Sex and drug addicted, reality television show watching, obese, negroids with no sense of history. Economically dependent upon their masters.

You have to sit down and work out your actions. Decide what you want. Decide if doing this will get you that.

You probably want to be free. To control your own currency, your own food, your own land, your water, manufacturing and defense. To be free of the control matrix.

To be free means to not be dependent.

You will never get that in the current system. They have poisoned the population (mercury in soft drinks and other things) and brought down IQs by over 10 points in the last 15 years. +30 points over last 40 years.

Average IQ reduction from lead, mercury and poisons in western world is probably about 40 points by now. Average reading level is 4th grade. 50% are below that.

They will dumb down, poison, weaken and debase the society as much as is needed, to bring in the system they want. If you organize against it, you will just be identified in an NSA dragnet and arrested or murdered by some 75 IQ degenerate on their payroll.

Figure out what you want and how to get it. Do not waste your lives just memeing. Do not expect a savior or messiah, or someone to come along and save you from reality. You can only save yourself and the community of the people who want out of the current system.

If there was these poisons in common food wouldn't it be detected?

We are getting dumber, but, I thought that was the result of mass immigration, miscegenation and technology.

That is from estrogens like BPA. They put in all the plastics and also the linings for all canned products.

There is mercury in the soda.

Another feminizing agent is cadmium, which is being added to coffee and other crops now.

No poisoning. Aspartame is another poison. Look at all the gums and candies in the store with it. It goes straight to brain and is converted into methanol and formaldehyde. You cannot find chewing gum now that does not contain it.

They are also adding chemicals used as rat poison (sodium fluoride), to the water. Aluminum chemicals are being added to water also, that end up accumulating in the brain and causing Alzheimers. A disease that did not exist fifty years ago and now will kill off 1/3rd of the elderly.

Also, biological weapons. Chemical and biological attacks against their own population.

You do not even want to know. Fixing society will be an uphill battle. The people in power, know they will push society to collapse and have been preparing for forty years to mop up and rule over the pieces.

Talks about how xenophobic parties like UKIP can exploit MEP positions. Interestingly there seems to be great concern over using YouTube as a platform for speeches made in the EP, since many more people will watch a relevant YT video, than tune in for the actual parliamentary coverage, YT is seen as a major tool in the arsenal of xenophobic parties who manage to get an MEP elected.

Shaping voter attitudes

In the previous terms, xenophobic populist MEPs mainly used the EP as a source 30 of personal funding and a podium from which to broadcast their messages. They made xenophobic and anti-elite speeches in the Parliament and uploaded them to the internet through YouTube or other sites, but most did not get much involved in the details of parliamentary decision-making.12 However, in a political context where inflammatory speeches on YouTube reach a much wider audience than complex European policy debates do, xenophobic discourse erodes the social norms 5 and values that are essential for upholding the principles of the open society. Xenophobic populists are likely to use the base of their increased popular support to try to win the media communications battle on Europe – which could do more political damage than formal votes in the parliament. This will have an impact on societies where anti-racism norms are being eroded.

Just to reiterate and point out the really important sentence:
Xeno-phobic populists are likely to use the base of their increased popular support to try to win the media communications battle on Europe – which could do more political damage than formal votes in the parliament. This will have an impact on societies where anti-racism norms are being eroded.
In other words, according to this Soros document, meme warfare can have a greater impact than voting.

The government dumps rat poison (sodium flouride) into the water and tells people it is good for their teeth! And they believe it!
The level of stupidity and gullibility you are dealing with is incredible. I doubt that society will recovery.
They want America destroyed. They want to move the center of the empire to Europe. America is supposed to be annihilated with internal problems, stupidity and debasement.
The oligarchy is global. They have children in every country. They do not eat the same food you eat. They own their own farms.
Once they started to get away with putting rat poison in the water, it was over for the public. If they could not stop that, they cannot stop what came after that. It never stopped there.
